OFFICIALS TOLD OF NEEDS OF THEIR DEPARTMENTS

Representatives of Selectmen, Police and School Board Spoke at "Town Affairs Night" of Arlington Board of Trade. Nearly 200 Interested Citizens Present.

The Arlington Board of Trade held its annual "Town Affairs" meeting on Tuesday evening in G. A. R. Hall with a record breaking attendance. One hundred and eighty-nine sat down to dinner, or rather Dutch supper, served by Rufus Blake. Members interested in town affairs and the welfare of the organization were well repaid for their coming out.

President Elliot R. Barker announced that the full membership of the club had been almost reached. The number is 448 with only two more places left before a waiting list would be established. Several applications for membership were received but will not be voted upon until the next meeting, which will be the annual. A committee composed of R. Walter Hilliard, Andrew F. Freeman and William Haliburton, was appointed to bring in a list of candidates for the various offices. The April 19 celebration was taken up and President Barker read a letter from Frank Harwood, chairman of the committee in charge of this celebration, asking the Board of Trade to take part in the big parade here on that day. It was voted to enter the parade and a committee, consisting of Charles H. Forsaith, L. W. Goodwin and Clinton Schwamb was appointed to have charge of this matter. During the meeting the hat was passed for the Symmes Arlington Hospital Free Bed fund and $56.65 was received.

The business of the meeting was dispatched as quickly as possible, for it was realized that the members were deeply interested in what was to come.

The first speaker was Nelson B. Crosby, of the Board of Selectmen. Mr. Crosby had been billed to speak on the future of Arlington but in his introductory remarks, stated that this is too deep a subject on which to prophesy. Mr. Crosby preferred to hold to the present and take that as his text. The present is the big problem for the town. Can we hold our present boundaries, or be consolidated with some other neighboring town or city? This is a problem that is to be given a great amount of consideration now when so much talk is going on relative to annexations in Greater Boston or enlarging Cambridge. Mr. Crosby stated that had our forefathers been farsighted enough to see the problems of today, we would not be confronted by them. But we have these problems. In the past decade there were many changes. What will the next 50 or 100 years bring? With these conditions arise the question of government and citizenship. Changes in the growth of the town make necessary changes in methods of doing business. At present we are drifting too much toward congestion; congestion in business and congestion everywhere. Many industries could well be taken from the congested areas and brought farther out to relieve this crowded condition. Congestion means places where crime, graft, and immorality thrive. We should try to keep all undesirable things from our town or city. Mr. Crosby said that we should be content with our present conditions and avoid consolidations of any kind. Our present form of government in the town is the best possible to get results. He stated that economy was one of the great things to be considered in the running of a town. To show how the town has grown, Mr. Crosby stated that in the past three years $11,000,000 in building permits had been granted. There were 1,084 houses, 786 garages and 39 blocks of stores. This means that developments have been thrust upon us and calls for new schools, more police, more firemen, new streets and added expense. We are like the boy who has outgrown his clothes. His parents must go to a large expense to get him new ones although the old ones are not worn out. If we are to keep our town on a par with others, we must spend more money and so keep up with the growth. We have established a fire hazard by our rapid building and this calls for more expense. Mr. Crosby at the close of his remarks, gave an outline of the duties of the Selectmen and Joint Board. Mr. Crosby praised the work of the various departments that come under this board, such as the firemen, the police and especially the Finance Committee, which, while not coming under the supervision of the board, is in contact with it at all times.

Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart was the next speaker and gave the members some very interesting data relative to the department of which he is the head. The only regret was that the amount of time allotted to the chief was up before he had finished his talk. The chief started with when he was first appointed here and showed how the department has grown. For instance, that the amount appropriated only a few years ago, now only is enough to pay for the town traffic squad. The need of this squad was shown by the chief, who by figures demonstrated how the death rate had been kept down since the establishment of a traffic squad. He asked that the members of the Board of Trade cooperate with him in keeping the rate down and in trying to have a clean

Miss E. Caroline Pierce Polls Largest Vote in Arlington Election

Although the weather conditions on Monday were calculated to draw people out of doors to enjoy the bright sunshine and bracing air, they had no drawing effect on legal voters to bring them to the several voting places, for out of a registered voting list numbering over 9,000, less than one-third of this total took the trouble to vote for candidates for town offices. As a considerable majority of this vote was cast before nine o'clock, it is evident that it is the busy people, on their way to take up the day's duties who realize responsibility and act accordingly; that it is the stay-at-homes that are negligent.

There were three sections on the ballot that represented contests for honors.—Public Works, School Committee and Planning Board. For the first of the offices named, James R. Smith won with 1300 votes to 1020 cast for William P. Dale. Myron W. Dole was the one among the four candidates for School Committee failing to score, and a similar fate fell to the lot of Mr. Walter S. Elliott in the contest for places on the Planning Board.

The largest vote cast was for town clerk, E. Caroline Pierce. This was a compliment to Miss Pierce, who by the vote has been shown that citizens of Arlington have confidence in her ability to serve them. Mr. Nelson B. Crosby, who succeeds himself as Selectman for three years, had the next largest vote, while Moderator John G. Brackett polled the third largest.

We give below the names of candidates and the votes each received.

A UNIFORM DECORATION With The U. S. Flag Seems Likely, Along Mass. Avenue.

The committee from the Arlington Board of Trade, in charge of the uniform decoration scheme that is being worked out, has sent out cards to the residents along the avenue to see if they will come in on this scheme. The scheme is for each to have a standard placed in front of their home and display the flag on legal holidays or special occasions. Thus far the committee has met with great success and it now looks as if Mass. avenue would be lined with these standards on both sides from the Cambridge line to the Lexington line.

TEARING DOWN TO MAKE ROOM FOR THE NEW

This week the demolishing of Swan Block began, and quite remarkable progress has been made in succeeding days. On this site when cleared, will be erected a one-story block that will contain seven stores at least. As in years past it has been closed by a temporary fence for the required legal period. The entrance to Swan place and the vacant strip of land to the railroad tracks is presumed to go with the block, but we understand there has been raised a question as to ownership of the equity of this narrow strip of land.

The work of demolishing the old Arlington House on the corner of Medford street and Mass. avenue has gone rapidly forward during the past week, and it is likely before another week the ground will be in shape to begin the erection of the block of buildings that will take the place of the old landmark. This new block will be erected on the new line of Broadway, established several years ago, that will place it some fifteen feet back from the front line on which the hotel stood. The new building will have accommodation for seven stores and will be of one story only, but the front will rise twenty-two feet from the base, and is likely to be an ornament to this important location.

JAMES RAY COLE LODGE Knights of Pythias Celebrates Its 19th Anniversary.

James Ray Cole Lodge, Knights of Pythias celebrated their 19th anniversary Thursday evening, Feb. 26th, with a banquet and dance at Odd Fellows Hall.

More than a hundred enjoyed the repast when several of the grand and supreme lodge members were present. Chancellor-commander Frank W. Johnson gave the address of welcome. Interesting speeches were made by S. R. Harlan, P. Knight, G. C. William G. Lord; S. I. D. Clifford E. Jones; D. G. C., J. H. Morrison and the president of the Rank Staff Association, William H. Cox. Many favorable comments were made of the picture of the late P. C. William E. Dodge, that hangs in the hall and which was presented recently to the lodge by the Rank Staff Association. Past Chancellor MacAllister was toastmaster of the evening and was also in charge of the arrangements. The music for the evening was furnished by Deschamps' Ye Lantern Orchestra.

LAYMEN'S LEAGUE HOLD LADIES NIGHT

The Laymen's League of the First Parish Unitarian church, gave a complimentary dinner to the ladies of the parish, Friday evening of last week in the church vestry. The league provided for two hundred, but not all the places were taken at the tables, from which was served a turkey dinner topped off with ice cream and individual cakes. The dinner was chairmanned by Mr. David Buttrick, while the dining room was in charge of Dr. Stephen S. Merrill, who was assisted in the service by a group of young men connected with the parish.

After the dinner, Mr. Charles A. Hardy, president of the league, introduced Mr. S. L. Clark of Duxbury, who told in a most interesting manner the methods he with others had used to increase church attendance and arouse interest in church work, especially among the boys in the community.

TOWN MEETING ADJOURNED TO MARCH 26th

The annual March town meeting stands adjourned from Monday, March 2, until Thursday, March 26, when the business of the warrant will be thrashed out. It is likely to take several adjournments before all the articles, 58, are disposed of. There are several articles that will, no doubt, bring out a good deal of discussion.

That hole in the rear of the "High school lot" is to be brought up again by the Park Commissioners. The Advocate is among those who feel that Spy Pond Athletic field is still adequate for school sports. The town has other needs that are more pressing than this just at the present time.

For instance, the Arlington District Nursing Association, which for years has been carrying on the work of supporting visiting nurses that have gone into the homes of hundreds of our townspeople, bringing comfort by their ministrations. This work has grown to such large proportions that it has become a great burden to the sixteen ladies who make up the efficient board, to finance this work, which is bringing untold relief to those who call for it.

More than ten of interested voters have caused to be printed in the warrant an article asking that the town appropriate $1,000 or any other sum, for the employment of district or other nurses. The Advocate hopes that Town Meeting members will inform themselves on this subject, so that when the article comes up they can vote on it intelligently.

GIVE THEM THE TEST

The Salvation Army has been frequently victimized of late by unauthorized solicitors, who have pocketed money received. Col. McIntire desires us to say that owing to the large number of complaints which have reached me and in order to protect the public and the Salvation Army, I have furnished every official collector of the Salvation Army with an official pass which contains his photograph and a description of the territory in which he is to operate and which bears my signature. The public have the remedy for this matter in their own hands. Make every solicitor show his pass.

ARLINGTON INTERESTED IN CLEANING UP OF SPY POND

Representative Currier, Senator Warren, Alfred W. Lombard and Hon. James A. Bailey, with Others, Heard at a Legislative Hearing Held on Tuesday.

Tuesday, the matter of cleaning up Spy Pond came up before the Legislative Committee on Public Health at the State House. That Arlington is deeply interested was very plain and the committee that is looking into the matter was made aware that Arlington wants the pond cleaned and the rank growth of weeds, that cause an offensive odor in the summer time, removed. Representative Bert S. Currier has presented a bill to the Legislature asking for an appropriation to take care of this matter and Senator Charles C. Warren is also working earnestly to get the bill before the present legislature and some action taken.

At the hearing Tuesday, Alfred W. Lombard, chairman of the Board of Health, Clarence A. Moore, chairman of the Board of Public Works, Roger W. Homer, president of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, Charles H. Forsaith, member of the Legislative committee of the Arlington Board of Trade, Senator Warren, Representative Currier and Hon. James A. Bailey of this town appeared before the committee. All expressed their views on the matter. There was no opposition.

Mr. Lombard said "Spy Pond is a stagnant body of water right in the heart of Arlington and the vegetable growth at the bottom of the pond presents a menace to canoeists who may be overturned." "This stagnation was caused by acts of the State and the State should bear the expense of clearing away this rank growth."

Hon. James A. Bailey was of the opinion that the State and the town of Arlington should bear the expense equally. Mr. Homer was very emphatically in favor of the passage of a bill to clear up the waters of the pond as was Mr. Forsaith.

This paper was the first to take up the subject of the conditions prevailing in Spy Pond during the summer months, and will hail with great pleasure any plan that will rid the pond of something that not only destroys the beauty of this lovely sheet of water, but is objectionable in every way.

LADIES AID GUEST NIGHT AND ANNUAL MEETING

Tuesday evening, March 3, the annual meeting and guest night of the Ladies Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church was held with a large number attending. At 7 o'clock the business meeting occurred with Mrs. Frank Cogan, president, presiding, when reports were given. The treasurer, Mrs. Weston Craig, announced that $305 had been raised by the Blue Side and $387 by the Red Side in addition to a large balance in the treasury. Since the Reds were victorious, the Blues will entertain them at a dinner to be given in April. Plans were made for a St. Patrick's party on March 17th. The officers elected were:—Mrs. James Hamilton, president; Mrs. J. L. Senabugh, vice-president; Mrs. Robina Campbell secretary and Mrs. Mae Stockbridge, treasurer. Mrs. Cogan the retiring president, introduced the new officers.

Following the meeting, the members adjourned to the lower part of the church, where the guests of the evening had assembled. The rooms were attractively decorated in two shades of yellow in charge of a committee chairmanned by Mrs. Charles Cross. Mrs. Cogan introduced the new president who made a short address and presided during the program, which was delightfully given by Mrs. Robert S. Dinmore, and Mr. Walter Joslin, soloists and Miss Irma Cross, readings. The pastor, Rev. H. T. Coontz, also spoke. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. Jewell B. Knight.

ENGAGEMENT BRIDGE TEA

N., the announcement being made at a bridge tea given by Mrs. Brackett, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 28th. About twenty guests were present at the bridge including college friends and out-of-town friends of Miss Brackett's as well as classmates and friends of Arlington. The decorations used were pink and white flowers. The prizes of the afternoon were tied in blue and gold ribbons, the colors of the navy. Miss Alice Armstrong of Waltham won the first prize and on opening it found the note announcing the engagement.

Miss Brackett attended Arlington High School. She is a graduate of Simmons College and is now in the Physics department at Harvard University, associated with Dr. Pierce and Dr. Chaffee.

There Are Several Families In Town That Are Due For Trouble Soon

Perhaps you are one of them and you don't know it. Let us explain.

During the past few weeks we have been sizing up roofs in town at every opportunity and we have found several that are really quite bad.

It's almost certain that some of these roofs are going to leak badly with the first heavy Spring rain and that will spell trouble—perhaps serious trouble—for the people living in those houses.

If you don't know the condition of your roof or roofs, this is the proper time to make sure about it and prepare to make them safe. Better look into this important matter NOW and then let us help you in selecting the best shingles or roofing for your needs.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

On Monday a large number of towns in this Commonwealth held municipal elections. In a majority of them (and Arlington was included), for the first time in several decades the question, "Shall licenses for the sale of non-intoxicating beverages be granted in this town?" did not appear on the ballots. That it was placed on any ballots was without effect, as the law drawn to conform to the Volstead bill passed by Congress was accepted by popular vote last November and this has been confirmed by the present session of the Legislature.

This means that the banner of the forces that are still fighting the drink evil has been thrown a bit further in advance. As has been the case in recent years, the rank and file will ere long line up with the standard and as the millions of gallons of intoxicants seized from unlawful possessors is turned into streams that flow into old ocean instead of down human throats, that banner will again and again be advanced and more and more the hope of the original crusaders be realized.

THE EARTH QUAKES

After more than a century of quiet, compared with other sections of the country, the New England section of the United States experienced the shocks of the sliding, somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean, of the earth's surface, and we had here an earthquake that caused swaying of buildings, the stopping of clocks and other phenomena incident to these convulsions of nature. The effects of this sliding were experienced hundreds of miles inland, the quaking covering a considerable lapse in time.

The singular or at least peculiar character of this unusual event, was its intermittent effects. For instance, in Arlington the quaking was of a pronounced character, so much so that a large portion of the audience at the "Regent" fled the theatre by exit doors thrown open, while in Lexington, there were no signs of the quake; and this condition was the same near here and extending far westward.

Scientists who have given close study of Saturday's event and subsequent occurrences, tell us that in all probability in the not distant future, there will be another sliding of the earth's crust with another quake.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE INAUGURATED

Last Wednesday Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office and for a second time became President of the United States of America. Some eighteen months ago, by candle light in the home of his father in Vermont, his hand resting on the old family Bible, Calvin Coolidge pledged himself to faithfully and impartially perform the duties of this high office that the death of President Harding made it imperative he should assume.

How complex and intricate those duties were the country quickly discovered. He found himself confronted by a Congress in many particulars antagonistic to the administration, and sure to pass at least two measures that he did not approve of. The newspapers filled with hints of scandals in their departments, and party loyalty apparently thrown into the discard. How he met his responsibilities and achieved success when failure seemed imminent, are matters of record and the appreciation of President Coolidge's courage in going forward in the performance of his duty regardless of consequences to self was shown last November in the size of the vote cast in his favor.

We have no way of judging of the future but by the past. Measured by that standard and estimated by recent occurrences, is it not safe to assume that under the leadership of our new President, with a Congress brought to think seriously by the verdict of the polls and the necessity of party fealty once more brought clearly to the front, that the President's task in the future will be made easier than it has been, and that as a result the country will be better served.

WHY CANNOT ARLINGTON HAVE A POST OFFICE BUILDING?

In last week's paper we said that a notice had been placed in the Post office announcing that the lease of the present location expires in July. That more commodious quarters are now required to meet the rapidly growing business of the office.

We are wondering why Arlington cannot have a Post-office building. She certainly is larger in population than many places that have had a building erected by Uncle Sam. Why not endeavor to bring this about? It would mean a good deal of work on the part of our representatives in Washington, also to arouse the interest of all our citizens in letting the administration feel that Arlington is the psychological place in which to locate a Post-office building. We understand Cambridge is trying for it. Why not Arlington?

Pertinent Opinions

February 26, 1925
My Dear Editor:

Rule 30 of the Traffic Regulations of the Town of Arlington reads as follows:

"No vehicle shall stop in such a way as to obstruct any street or crossing or within ten feet of a fire hydrant, street corner, electric car or pole stop, except in case of emergency or when directed to do so by a police officer."

Upon inquiry I find that this rule—certainly a wise and helpful one—is in force, notwithstanding the evidence to the contrary which is nightly presented in the very center of our town at a spot peculiarly unsuitable to a violation of the ordinance. I refer to the curb opposite the entrance to the passageway leading through the Old Post Office Block.

This is perhaps one of the busiest spots in the main part of the town, of an evening. Being in our "shopping district," many ladies, in numerous cases unattended, have occasion to cross here. Practically nightly when they attempt to do so they come into the rear of an automobile which has been squeezed in, so that in order to gain the sidewalk from the street, they—or anyone else—are obliged to step over bumpers, edge their way between wheels and mud-guards and finally (Providence permitting) get through.

As a matter of fact the violation is two-fold. First of all this is a crossing, (though not paved); in the second place, it is an electric car stop. I understand the violation of the ordinance carries with it a penalty of $20, but this does not seem to be a serious deterrent.

Very sincerely,
ALFRED M. BACON.

Editor of the Advocate:
Who can explain how it happens that the auditorium of our beautiful town hall of which we are so justly proud, has remained unfinished in one respect?

For surely the ceiling lights, which are common, unfrosted bulbs attached to a plain cord, such as one would expect to find in a cellar or factory, cannot be the idea of any architect. Would it not be possible and advisable to install lighting fixtures in harmony with the superb ceiling which the present arrangements disfigure?

MARK S. DICKEY,
Arlington, Mar. 2, 1925.

FRIENDS OF THE DRAMA GIVE AN INTERESTING EVENING

Thursday evening of last week, The Friends of the Drama held their meeting in the vestry of the Unitarian church, when a splendid program was presented, in charge of Mrs. William M. Hatch, who was the coach for the play entitled, "The Drama Class Tankalia," by Mary Aldis. Mrs. Hatch brought into the cast some new players, which gave an added interest, especially as they displayed not a little ability to act. These were Mrs. Harold Webb and Miss Marion Hillard. The play gave opportunity for a good deal of clever reading of the lines and in the hands of the cast selected, it did not lack for interest. It was a play within a play. Those in the cast follow:

Mrs. Bennett.....Mrs. Llewellyn Evans
Minnie, the Maid.....Charlotte Butler
Mrs. Fessenden.....Mrs. George B. C. Rugg
Jennie.....Mrs. Harold Webb
Mrs. Sedman.....Eleanor Homer
Mrs. Brookman.....Mrs. George Bailey
Characters within the play:—
Paolo.....Mrs. Wallace Powers
Maddalena.....Mrs. George Yale
Maria.....Mrs. Wm. Brooks
Anna.....Mrs. Charles H. Hostie

Light refreshments which were served at the close of the evening, were suggestive of Washington's birthday and the committee serving were dressed in the Martha Washington costume. They were Mrs. E. B. Harrington, Mrs. Oscar Schnetzer, Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Mrs. John Berry, Mrs. Val T. Hanson.

The By-laws that had been revised by a special committee, chairmaned by Mrs. C. A. Dennett, were accepted during the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. George Moody, with the exception of the one referring to the change in name of the organization. After considerable discussion, the matter was voted to be referred back to the board.

PATRONS OF THE REGENT FELT THE EARTHQUAKE

Those who were at the Regent theatre on Saturday evening, of last week, were given a thrill not counted on, when the building began to sway sufficiently to be felt by those seated. Of course it was the earthquake, but this was not known until many had left the theatre, rising as they did, en masse when this strange sensation of seasickness suddenly came over them. A panic was averted by the cool headedness of someone who commanded the audience not to become excited and to leave the building quietly, which most people did, although many returned when nothing more alarming happened. It had been a strange sensation nevertheless.

One lady whose "better half" had been separated from her in the rush to leave the theatre, declared that she wouldn't leave the building without him. There was an example of devotion or was it fear of having to overcome the bread winner if calamity overtook him?

Some who left the building fearing it was about to collapse, showed little thought or judgment when they congregated just outside of the door at one of the rear exits to the theatre, where, if the building had fallen, it would have been an excellent place to have been caught under the debris. What strange things we will do and say under excitement is laughable after danger is passed.

That the quake was only in certain sections of the town was apparent from the reluctance of those who did not feel it, to believe the story of those who did.

At the police station the telephone was kept busy for some time after the quake with anxious residents asking where the explosion had been, or whether or not there had been an earthquake.

A TRUE ARTIST

It is the older residents of Arlington who remember Edward C. Litchfield, who founded the still going "Litchfield Studio" many years ago, but it was his remarkable skill as a photographer that gave the studio its first reputation. When Mr. Litchfield disposed of his business, selling it to Mr. Marshall, he removed to Berwick, Me., soon taking rank there as an artist of highest merit. This week we received a letter from Mr. Litchfield, in which he said "I now spend a good part of my summers making out-door pictures and in the winter months color them in either oil or water colors." "I am sending you a picture of Fowle's Pond, taken in August 1898, and colored in oils." We highly appreciate the courtesy for we consider it entitled to a place in Class A in pictures of this sort.

Mr. Litchfield also colors portraits, but most of his time is taken with the colored views. The Berwick newspaper had the following to say of Mr. Litchfield in one of its recent issues:

"E. C. Litchfield, the photographer and artist, has been doing some very beautiful work in the way of coloring photographs in oil and water colors, producing some very attractive views, many of them in this and other sections of New Hampshire."

Chats with Your Gas Man

FROM INCUBATOR TO CREMATORY

GAS heat may begin with the incubator and end with the crematory, yet between these widely separated uses there are five thousand other applications for this ideal fuel.

Gas service is rapidly becoming the king of fuels. It is just as important a burden bearer in the shops, plants and factories of America as it is in the millions of homes where it has become a necessity. And the opportunities for its further development are stupendous.

When gas pipes go into a plant, ashes, smoke and soot leave forever. Uncertainty of delivery, price changes on fuel and similar troubles are solved at once. Plant space is increased, money formerly tied up in fuel reserves is released and workmen are happier because they do better work in more pleasant surroundings.

Is it any wonder gas service is growing?

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES

Which Include a Fine Flag Drill
Given Under Auspices of W. R. Corps 43.

Francis Gould W. R. C., 43 staged patriotic exercises of special significance on Thursday evening of last week in G. A. R. Hall. February annually brings the anniversary of the birth of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. All who were present will agree that these anniversaries were most fittingly observed, teaching, as they did, a splendid lesson in patriotism with which the large audience present was thrilled in no small way.

Starting in the early afternoon, the ladies conducted their program in connection with the regular W. R. C. meeting. At this meeting comrades of the G. A. R. were special guests. President Leila Russell presided over this meeting and during the afternoon her sister members gave her quite a surprise in presenting her a handsome toilet set. Guests and speakers of this session were Mrs. Mabel M. Smith of Brighton, Department President of the W. R. C.; Mrs. Fannie E. Wheeler, Past Department President; Miss E. Caroline Pierce, town clerk; Representative Bert S. Currier; Comrade Farrington of Post 56 of Cambridge. It was an inspiring meeting and crowded the hours to almost supper time. A large committee, under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn R. Morse, prepared the supper. This was a regulation W. R. C. supper that is surpassed by none.

The evening exercises were open to the public and the attendance was such as to tax the capacity of the hall. Comrades of the G. A. R., American Legion, Auxiliaries, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Italy and Sons of Veterans were represented. The guests were formed in one of the anti-rooms and marched into the main hall where they were seated on the platform. The guests of the afternoon remained and participated in the evening session.

Mrs. Russell delivered the opening address of welcome and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Catherine Finley. Representing the American Legion were Commander Fred Fallon, Sergeant-at-arms Charles Tynan, Adj. Ellsworth Randall; Mrs. Daniel P. Barry, president, represented the American Legion Auxiliary; President Ralph D. Guarente represented the Sons of Italy; Frank Zelch the Spanish War Veterans; and Commander Chester Milliken the Sons of Veterans. Representing Post 36 were Past Department Commander Henry Clark; Past Department Commander Alfred H. Knowles, Past Department Patriotic Instructor Charles S. Parker.

One of the most prominent features of the evening's program was that presented by a group of children, trained and drilled by Miss Cleora Russell, grand-daughter of the late chaplain of Post 36. Miss Russell originated the drills and the little play that preceded it and she is deserving, as are the children who took part, of a great deal of praise for the work. The opening number was "A Lesson in Patriotism," in which the spirit of patriotism is taught to a group of immigrant children with such effect that they at once grasp the spirit and show by their act that the pledge to the flag is something that they mean to live up to. This was followed by a really remarkable flag drill. Eleanor Bacon was the captain and the varying evolutions were made in response to whistles blown by her. The girls were dressed in uniform, each carried a flag and on each breast was pinned a letter. The varied movements culminated in a straight line, when it was seen that the letters now spelled Washington-Lincoln. The drummer was Mr. Merrill and the fife, Mr. Stone. Miss Russell was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the children she had so splendidly drilled.

Those taking part in these two numbers were Ruth Blanchard, Barbara Hall, Doris McEwen, Esther Fitzgerald, Agnes Cunha, James Sullivan, Warren Russell, Ruth Lowe, Flora Bacon, Viola Dunk, Helen Forbes, Margaret Shreenan, Eleanor Dale, Katherine Clark, Mildred Cronin, Mary Boyle, Marjorie Lowcock, and Ida Kenovitch. Warren Russell recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

The address of the evening was delivered by Charles S. Parker, past department patriotic instructor and present patriotic instructor of Post 36 G. A. R. His remarks were timely and in keeping with the occasion. Other speakers were Past Department Commanders Henry Clark and Alfred H. Knowles, the latter being at present head of the Loyal Legion; Department President, Mrs. Mabel Smith; Frank Zelch of the Spanish War Veterans; Fred Fallon of the Legion, Ralph D. Guarente of the Sons of Italy; Commander Milliken of the Sons of Veterans, and Mrs. Daniel P. Barry of the Legion Auxiliary.

A special attraction on the program, both afternoon and evening, was the section by comrades George H. Russell and Charles E. Storey of Post 15 of Boston. The former was a drummer boy in the Civil War and the latter was a fife. Both played the same instruments that they carried during the four years they were in the service. Their numbers consisted of many of the old time tunes and that they were appreciated was very plain to be seen by the long applause of the audience.

YE OLDE FOLKS CONCERT
DREW LARGE AUDIENCE

The seating capacity of the First Universalist church was nearly taxed to its capacity on Friday evening of last week, when the Samaritan Society of the church, under the direction of its president, Mrs. Ernest Hesselstine, assisted by Mrs. Lester Collins, put on an old folks concert. Ernest Hesselstine, Jr., and Homer Collins, dressed in old fashioned costume and high hats, took the tickets, while Mrs. Bertha Hall Smith in a lovely old fashioned dress over a hundred years old, distributed the programs, assisted by Mrs. Calvin Cook, who later sang in the chorus. Mrs. Cook made a typical old fashioned picture in dress, shawl and lace cap.

The singers made an interesting group as they walked down the aisle of the church to their seats on the platform. Most of the ladies wore a head covering, which added to the effective picture. Some lovely old shawls were noted while the Dolly Varden dress with hoop skirts, were much in evidence. Mr. Paul R. Bennett led the chorus which sang the usual old time songs. The solos were taken by different well known people connected with the parish, although perhaps not recognized by the name printed on the program, so for the sake of those interested in reading the names of those who did assist in making the evening of special interest, we give the soloists. They were Mrs. Homer Collins, Mrs. Albert B. Taylor, Mr. John Mathews, the latter principal of the Junior High school (center), Mrs. Sarah M. Powers, Mr. Wallace Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harwood, Mr. Bennett, Miss Margaret Yerrinton.

Mrs. Powers gave a most enjoyable reading, while Mr. Powers in his inimitable style, put over his special number. The duet by Mr. Powers and Mrs. Taylor was well acted out and brought forth an enthusiastic encore. Mr. Bennett contributed tenor solos finely sung, but it was Mr. Ernest Hesselstine who took the palm of the evening. His numbers was the opening of the second part of the program. Those present who could remember back to the time when Mr. Hesselstine, with the late Winfield Durgin and the late William Poole, as well as Mr. Herbert Pattee and others, made Arlington's Minstrel shows things worth seeing, were reminded that talent once possessed is never lost, for Mr. Hesselstine as "Old Black Joe," made the hit of the evening with his singing of the old time melodies acted out in his well known style, assisted by the full chorus that absented itself from the stage during his number. Mrs. Hesselstine was the accompanist of the evening and discharged her duty most acceptably. The program was enjoyed from the minute it opened until it closed with the singing of America, in which the audience joined. The program as printed follows:—

"Auld Lang Syne," "Cousin Jedediah," Betsy Deliverance Collins, Ye Bigge Choir; "Strike Ye Gymbals," Polly Delight Taylor with Phineas Shadrach Matthews and Ye Bigge Choir; Declaration, Deliverance Saxadatha Powers; "Old Folks at Home," Obejoyful Biddad Harwood and Ye Bigge Choir; Ye frivolous duette—"Dost Thou Love Me, Sister Ruth," Polly Delight Taylor and Balmaglead Powers; "Row, Row Your Boat" (A foolish Round), Ye Bigge Choir; "Ye Bigge Choir, with ye help of ye Anvils will make much noise on "Ye Anvil Chorus;" "Old Black Joe," "Angel of Peace;" Ye Bigge Choir; "Ye Jolly Yankle Sleighride," Hannah Maria Harwood with Phineas Shadrach Matthews and Ye Bigge Choir; Solo, Adjonijah Peltiah Bennett; Declaration, Balmaglead Powers; "Grandmother's Advice," Patience Yerrinton; "Scotland's Burning," (Another foolish Round), Ye Bigge Choir; "America."

GEORGE A. SMITH TELLS OF HIS TRIP TO CHINA

There was a large attendance of the members of the Arlington Historical Society and friends in the vestry of the First Parish church, on Monday evening, drawn there to listen to an informal talk on China to be given by Mr. George A. Smith, a member of the society who, in company with his daughter, Miss Elizabeth, recently made a trip around the world on the steamship "Samarra," in company with others.

Mr. Smith illustrated his talk with lantern slides most of which pictures had been taken by him or his daughter, Miss Smith, who operated the lantern. The speaker confined his talk to interesting scenes taken in Hongkong, Shanghai and Canton. He had several carved ivory pieces of Chinese engaged in their chief vocations that were of interest, and for an hour and one half, spoke of the things that had interested him most in that part of their nearly four months absence from America.

During the business session that preceded the talk, the president, Judge James P. Parmenter, referred to the passing of Mrs. Lucy B. Smith and Frank H. Stiles, two of the members of the society. Several gifts to the society were announced. Mr. C. A. Hardy, the secretary and Mr. Franklin Wyman, were named by the president to represent the society on the committee the Board of Trade is interested in securing to represent every organization in the town to consider a suitable memorial to the boys of Arlington, who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Mrs. George Winn announced that $54.00 was realized from the recent card party held in the Jason Russell house, the object of which was to raise money to purchase dishes to be used by the society. It was also announced that the Colonial ball will be held on April 17th, in Town Hall.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

late at the close of the year. Of interest to the members was a list of complaints, read by the chief, which showed some of the things that an officer does in addition to his regular duties. This was news to many of the members. Chief Urquhart spoke of the difficulty of getting men for his department. Nowadays it is not a prizefighter or bully that is wanted, but a man who has a keen mind. The police is now a profession, not a job, as the list of complaints attended during the year will show. The speaker gave a brief outline of the examination required by the civil service for police officers. Chief Urquhart stated that to his mind, his department is the most important in the town, for it deals with personal liberty. The chief told how his department is split up into platoons and by the use of maps showed just how the town is patrolled during the day and night. More men are needed. The chief feels that the town has held back too long. Under the law which gives the men one day off in eight, there are absences which cannot be avoided. The chief stated that people are calling up constantly for officers to take care of the traffic situation. In closing, the chief asked the members to drop into the station once in a while, make themselves known to the officers in charge and see how the department is being run. Everything is an open book there and he would welcome visitors to the station at any time. The chief outlined a number of ways that citizens can help the department. If anyone sees a suspicious person about their place, telephone at once the police. Ninety nine times the person may be all right, but the 100th they may get a "bad actor."

The last speaker was Prof. Alexander H. Rice, chairman of the School committee, who spoke on the schools of the town. Mr. Rice's remarks were extremely interesting and to the point and the members were given a better idea as to the conducting of our school business than they were aware of before. Mr. Rice, after saying that the school committee is made up of nine members, told of how it is divided up into sub-committees and explained the work of each. The speaker noted that the better the committee do its work, the better the schools and less perplexing will be the work of the police or Selectmen. In showing the school population of the town, Prof. Rice stated that in the High School there are 639 students; Junior High Center 503; Junior High West 372; Crosby 910; Locke 521; Cutter 471; Parmenter 187 and Russell 390, making a total of 4211. The High school has the largest population of a high school in any town in the state, except Brookline, and the highest in 14 cities of this Commonwealth, except Brookline. The problems of the housing of this vast population is perplexing. It is sure to grow and with it grow the expenditures. We must pay the price. Prof. Rice dwelt at some length on the complaints that have been heard that our schools are inadequate. Every community has the same complaint. To keep the schools up to their present high standard, Arlington has a problem. The complaint has been heard that our schools do not fit the student for further advancement. To refute this, Prof. Rice showed that in the past two years, 69 graduates of the High school, had taken examinations either for college or normal school and out of this number only three had failed to pass. Prof. Rice felt certain that had these three applied themselves to their studies, they too would have passed. This failure should not be charged to the school department of the town, but rather to the pupil. Prof. Rice took up the much talked of matter: That private schools are better than the public schools. He had gone into this subject very deeply. He told of a friend who had taken his boy out of the public school and sent him to a private school. The friend's reason was that nothing more or less than snobbishness had been his reason. Prof. Rice stated that perhaps a pupil may master his studies better in the private school, for there he is restricted to certain hours of the day when he is compelled to study. This is why he gets his lessons. On the other hand, the student who attends the public school is put on his honor to study. He is only a few hours under the control of his teacher. After that he is left to the dictates of his ambition or conscience or to the supervision of his parents. It is up to both to cooperate. The success or failure of a pupil is in his own hands. In the public school, Prof. Rice urged that parents take more interest in school matters which cannot help but be an advantage to pupil, teacher and every one concerned in the education of our children, who are to be the future citizens of our town.

ARLINGTON ROTARY CLUB

Hears President Coolidge Over The Radio.

Thanks to the radio outfit at Middlesex Sportsman's Association, more than the full membership of Arlington Rotary Club enjoyed the exercises connected with the inauguration of Calvin Coolidge as President, in a way hardly less satisfactory than it was to the vast crowd (estimated as 75,000), massed in the vicinity of the capitol at Washington.

This was because a speaker with an ideal "radio voice" gave a broad outline of what was taking place and followed with details as to the movements of the two branches of Congress; the diplomatic corps, the governors of states and others directly participating, as they filed into seats in the grand stand. This description was twice broken when the Marine Band gave selections delightful to hear.

One of the first messages received was to the effect that overhanging clouds had disappeared, that the sun was shining clear and bright; that with moderated temperature, it was proving an ideal spring day.

The business on Wednesday related wholly to the entertainment to be staged next week.

TRIBUTE TO REV. J. G. TAYLOR

The Boston Globe of Monday evening, March 2, ran a story relative to Rev. John G. Taylor of Arlington, fifty years in the ministry, together with a picture featuring Mr. Taylor and Rev. Henry J. Kilbourne, D. D., the latter president of the Congregational Ministers' Club.

The story was written by Miss Corinne M. Danforth of 16 Devereaux street, niece of Charles Grossmith, the druggist. She is on the reportorial staff of the Globe and since becoming a newspaper woman has done some splendid special feature stories for that paper.

It will be remembered perhaps by our readers, that the Advocate reported the 80th birthday of Mr. Taylor, which occurred some months ago, also a portion of the address Mr. Taylor gave at Park Avenue Congregational on his completion of fifty years in the ministry. This was the address which he repeated at a meeting of the ministers club in Boston entitled "Then and Now, or Fifty years Observation in the Congregational Ministry." At the time Mr. Taylor gave the address at the Arlington Heights church of which he is the pastor emeritus, Rev. Harold L. Stratton, who is now the minister of the church, paid a wonderful tribute to Mr. Taylor, which Miss Danforth used in her story. He said that the members of his church love Mr. Taylor, especially do the younger members love him. "He is younger in a bigger right than we are in years," said Rev. Mr. Stratton. "He has been more of a help to the boys than he probably realizes. They have felt so welcome to talk things over with him. He has opened to them great outlooks."

His fellow ministers were most appreciative of his address and flooded the platform after its reading, to express to Mr. Taylor their appreciation and love for him. His optimistic views along religious as well as social lines make one realize that Mr. Taylor has lived with an open mind that makes him a delightful companion to all ages and people in all walks in life. It is good to have lived so well that this can be said of one, and the article referred to clearly brought out this fact.

In concluding the article the writer quoted the following, as to what modern thought has done as expressed by Mr. Taylor.

"While modern thought has denuded Jesus of deity and of divinity in this sense, it has cheerfully accorded Him the first place, the highest niche in the hall of fame, for religious geniuses and the fullest disclosure of God in the race and perhaps the most consummate teacher yet known to the race.

"The disagreements as to the person of Jesus will grow less and less, if the past 50 years mean anything, and the church will proclaim Him as the greatest religious leader of the ages and the fullest embodiment of God in human nature. He will not be thought of as a visitor to the race for high and holy purposes standing alone yet among men. He will be one of the many brethren—but chief.

"Theology was the queen of sciences in my day.

"Now there is no theology. Our fathers believed in a God as real as the tree in the garden. Teachers nowadays do not define God as you define a steamship, but seek to discover the philosophy of the cosmos.

"Who believes today that the world was created in six days? Or that Adam and Eve were made out of the dust of the earth? Who believes that a flood destroyed the whole race except the 8 people who found passage in the Ark? Who believes that an arrangement was made in the Garden of Eden or even before the event in anticipation of it, which we call the Atonement?

"Who believes that the grace of God is checkmated or limited or withheld except by the unwillingness of man to receive it. Who believes that some are elected for Heaven and some for Hell? Who believes that the opportunity for repentance for sin is ever withdrawn? Who believes that the world is to end in a catastrophic display? Some, perhaps? The tenets which were written large in our note books 50 years ago, if not confessed, would seriously jeopardize, if not prevent ordination to the ministry.

"In these degenerate days a candidate for ordination or installation, forgets theology, the great beliefs on which creation hung and devotes himself to the social gospel and the organization of the church and the Kingdom of God and religious education, especially on its attractive side and the movies as a method of baiting sinners and saints.

"Have required trembling candidates for church membership to solemnly affirm their belief in creeds which would not now be given standing room in any self-respecting church.

"The beliefs which occupied the footlights in those days are thrown into the rubbish rooms, many of them, and the ministers are either dead or relegated to desuetude. Not in the Congregational Churches alone for the same tide has overtaken all the denominations."

Curry of Appleton street, entertained the members of the dancing class of which he is a member, with a party on Friday afternoon, February 27th in celebration of his ninth birthday at Associates Hall in connection with the regular lesson. Orchid sweet peas and candles afforded the color scheme. A large birthday cake with candles was cut and served during refreshments. Caps and other novelties were the favors to the guests.

—Mrs. J. J. Rowlands of 39 Linden street, entertained at her home on Saturday evening, Feb. 28th with bridge and dancing. Yellow decorations carried out with jonquills and candles were in evidence in the rooms where the guests were entertained. Five tables were played and the first ladies prize was awarded to Mrs. George Cooper and the first gentlemen's was taken by Mr. Benjamin T. Hickey. Mrs. Russell Dean, of Cambridge won the consolation. Dainty refreshments of salads, ices and fancy cakes were served from the tables and the latter part of the evening was spent with dancing.

—The Sunshine Club was entertained at their regular business and social meeting on Wednesday, March 4th, at the home of Mrs. O. B. Vinal, Appleton street with Mrs. B. F. Hickey and Mrs. Frank Biggs assisting hostesses. During the business meeting the nominating committee was appointed with Mrs. H. J. Anderson as chairman and Mrs. F. O. Bartlett and Mrs. O. B. Vinal. The two guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Roger W. Homer, president of the Arlington District Nursing Association, who gave an interesting account of what the association is doing in Arlington, and Mrs. Edmund Byram, State President of the Sunshine Clubs, who also gave a short talk on her activities during the past year in state Sunshine work. A social hour followed, when refreshments were enjoyed.

LEGION NOTES

Once again we are going to request that any person having information regarding any resident of Arlington who died in the service of the United States or her allies, or Germany during the World War or since the war, please communicate their information to Arlington Post No. 39, The American Legion, at once. It is a duty that we owe to the ones who passed on, that we preserve their memory and their deeds and records.

Whew—But that was a corking good feed we had in Grand Army Hall Thursday, March 5th. Past Commander Riley, "Grand Chef" of our Post certainly turned out a mighty good turkey supper and he and his committee should be complimented. Also State Commander Harlow, Senior Vice Commander Good, State Adjutant Haverty, County Council Commander White, Past County Commander Quinn, and as usual our comrades of the Grand Army, honored us by their presence. More comrades of the Post attended than we expected but we provided for them all at that. Everyone enjoyed themselves immensely and good-fellowship was predominant.

Don't forget our next regular meeting at Post Headquarters, 661 Mass. avenue, Arlington, on Tuesday evening, March 10th, 1925. Eats as usual and a good time for all is promised. The band wagon is on its way.

Have you got on board yet? Better do so, don't you think so?

ELLSWORTH RANDALL,
Adjutant, Arlington Post No. 39.

WALTER T. CHAMBERLAIN
Will Take Your Contribution To The Navy And Marine Memorial.

In last week's paper the Advocate ran an article telling of the appeal now being made to raise approximately $500,000 to erect at Washington, an appropriate memorial to those who have given service on sea for the welfare and protection of the country, some who have made the supreme sacrifice and for others who have not.

The idea of such a memorial must appeal to all and the amount asked of Arlington is a very modest sum. Only two hundred fifty dollars is asked of this town, and this amount can be raised speedily and cheerfully if you mail your check today. Regardless of the amount the committee asks you to mail something today to this very worthy cause.

Make all remittances payable to Navy and Marine Memorial and address to Walter T. Chamberlain, care of The Arlington Co-operative Bank, 622 Mass. avenue, Arlington, Mass.

SOUVENIR STAMP NOW READY

The very attractive souvenir anniversary stamp issued by the Lexington committee is being distributed from the Lexington Savings Bank and it is confidently expected that they will be secured and used by all citizens. The cut gives no hint of the real attractiveness of Mrs. Sherburne's design, but even here the strength and dignity are apparent. In connection with the design it should be said that a number of most excellent and interesting ones were submitted, but most of the others had inherent mechanical difficulties or lacked certain elements needed. The question of ease of reproduction from a mechanical and expense point of view were of considerable importance, and led to the choosing of this design, which seemed to combine all the attributes needed.

The stamps are given gratis to adults who will use them on applying either to the committee or to the Lexington Savings Bank. The use of these stamps on all outgoing mail, either of a business or personal nature, will be of considerable assistance in extending the welcome of Lexington to the country at large.

DREAMS

that come true

Remember when you were a child with a picture book, how you lived in a land of splendors with courts and kings?

And we have a theory that if you dream earnestly enough you will make your dreams come true.

At any rate we have always dreamed about a super shoe store for this town. For years we have dreamed it. And it is coming as sure's you're born.

A lot of people already swear by us. And many new faces come here every week and go away pleased.

Have you called on us yet?

FRANK BRANCH RILEY

Charms His Audience With His Illustrated Lecture.

The Lexington Field and Garden Club gave its members and friends a rare treat on Friday evening of last week, when it procured the services of Mr. Frank Branch Riley of Portland, Oregon, to give his illustrated lecture entitled, "The Lure of the Great Northwest." The hall was well filled when Mr. Frederick L. Emery, the president of the club, opened the meeting with a brief resume of what this club has accomplished in the way of beautifying and improving the center of Lexington especially, in its nearly fifty years that the club has been existence; for it was May, 1876 that the first work of the club was undertaken. Mr. Emery reminded the audience that it was the club that took the initiative for the preservation of Lexington's beautiful battle green. That the grounds about the railroad station were rid of unsightly buildings and obstructions through work of the club, and that the present appearance of the railroad yard is due mainly to the club's efforts, which raised and expended over $5,000. Mr. Emery told of the hundreds and hundreds of trees that had been planted by the club, and in concluding spoke of a plan the club now has in mind, which will make a most beautiful walk along Vine Brook in the Fair Oaks district. Mr. Sheldon A. Robinson is now working out a landscape scheme which will call for the planting of shrubs and flowering plants to border the brook on either side of which will be planted the graceful old fashioned willow trees. Of course there will have to be some cleaning up of the sides of the brook, and this the club will ask the town to do. At the request of Mr. Emery, the proposed scheme was thrown on the screen in a colored picture which certainly was approved by the audience judging by its hearty applause. Mr. Emery made an appeal for new members and stated that with this in view, the club had secured Mr. Riley, whose reputation as a speaker, as well as a general educator from the standpoint of arousing interest in his audiences for the beauties of our own country were well known.

That the club had made no mistake in securing the services of Mr. Riley, was apparent in the interest shown by the audience in the speaker and his beautiful pictures, which showed the marvels of Oregon, Washington and the Canadian Northwest that brought vividly to the minds of the audience that none need to travel to the Alps or sail on the Rhine to see the wonders and beauties in nature. Mr. Riley has a magnetic personality while his humor and facetious manner is most infectious. His ability to keep up a running fire of bright sayings and clever stories appropos to the situation, made it apparent that he is a man of no small calibre. His descriptions of the country through which he took his audience were vivid and he has a certain charm and artistry that makes his lecture one not to be forgotten. One felt that he had actually travelled through the portions of our marvelous country so clearly described by the speaker, while his exquisite colored photographs, most of which had been taken by Mr. Riley, left one wishing to be able to see for themselves, these wonders of nature.

A DRIVE FOR MORE MEMBERS
Will Soon Be Made By The Arlington
District Nursing Association.

Arlington District Nursing Association is organizing for their drive which will be the last of April or the first of May and has employed Miss Inez Fletcher as executive secretary of the general committee. This committee has been formed with Mr. Wallace M. Powers as chairman. The object for which the drive is being arranged is to add 5000 more members before May 1st. The sense of the men who have come forward to help in this drive is, that the sixteen ladies who have borne the burden of the Association, should be relieved of the anxiety which comes each year in financing the work. The people whom the Association stands ready to help, should come forward and support the work. If they do not those who have carried the burden so long feel that they cannot continue.

Those familiar with what the Association stands for in the community and what wonderful help it has given those who have had occasion to have a visiting nurse in the home, realize that it would be a calamity to have this work given up. The Baby Clinic alone should make an appeal to every young mother. Two of our best physicians in town are giving their services to help the mothers to keep their babies well and many a baby's life has been saved through the Baby Clinic, while many more have been made a stronger and healthier baby through the free advice given by the physician at the clinic. Arlington does not want this work to be abandoned, but it must be better supported than it has in the past.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB MEETING

The next meeting of the Searchlight club will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Lawson, 13 Ravine street, Thursday, March 12, at 2.30 P. M. The speaker will be Miss Jeanette Rankin, who is the first woman ever elected to the U. S. Congress; a member of the 65th Congress (1917-19), from Montana at-large. Her subject will be, "The Outlawry of War." Mrs. Frederic Sawyer will preside at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Lawson.

Miss Rankin was field secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, 1925. She went to New Zealand a few years ago to study methods and conditions. Her budget was limited so she advertised, on arriving, for dressmaking. In this she was quite successful and has many amusing stories to tell of her finding herself in the upper servants class. She also got a very interesting amount of intimate material. She has now established a homestead in Georgia and started a Pecan raising project. When the suffrage amendment was passed the large flag which hung from the House flagstaff was presented to Jeanette Rankin as the only woman member.

MR. ELLIETT THANKS

VOTERS FOR SUPPORT

Editor of the Advocate,
I want to thank the many citizens who registered their approval of the progressive things I advocated for the best interests of the town of Arlington by giving me such an encouraging vote at the recent election. To be sure I did not poll quite enough to be elected but I am encouraged to have received a number so large that it makes it quite obvious that proportional representation in the administration of the town's affairs is desired by many citizens and is bound to come eventually. The fact that my candidacy was entirely independent of clubs or special groups, proves clearly that those who did vote for me, did so, in the sincere belief that the changes or reforms I stood for, represent, not only the views of a goodly proportion of the citizens who voted for me, but also many others who may have voted for my opponents. Since there was such a strong expression of this opinion I sincerely hope that the newly elected officers will do their best to represent as fairly as it can be done under the present system the interests of those parts of the town which now do not have any direct representation on the Planning Board.

BOWLING NOTES

The Town Bowling League has now reached a very interesting stage for there is little difference in the standing of the teams. The Elks still hold onto top place, but for the past three weeks they have been slowly but surely dropping their big lead. Now this team has only a one point lead over the Knights of Columbus team, the latter having made a great spurt of late and giving good account of themselves. In the matches rolled Thursday evening, Feb. 26 on the Arlington Alleys, the Town team took all four points from the Elks team and the K. of C. and the Regent Alley team split even. This leaves the standing as follows: Elks 39 games; Knights of Columbus 37; Town Team 32 and Regent Alley 31. In the matches last Thursday, Hector Hawke of the Regent Alley team was the high roller, his single of 127 and three string for 335 being the best for the night.

The second half of the Community Club of Arlington Bowling League is now well under way. The teams are working hard for the top place in the league. Last Friday evening, Feb. 27, Team E won all four points from Team B; Team A won three from Team F; and Team C won three from Team D. The race for supremacy in the high scoring line fell between President Woodbine, who rolls on Team D, and Whitcomb of Team C. Each rolled 300 for a total but Woodbine won the high single honors with 113, although Benway of Team A was a close second with 110.

There are only two more matches to be rolled in the Union Church bowling league series. It now looks promising for the Calvary Methodist Church team to win the championship. The matches rolled on Monday evening on the Arlington Alleys strengthened the hold of this team on first place, for it took four points from Team B of the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal). The Heights Methodist Church team, by splitting even with the Church of Our Saviour, Team A, still holds out in second place and have a good chance of being in that place when the league closes which will be in two more weeks. Giles of the Davis team of the Heights Baptist Church was the high three string man with 304, and O'Brien of Calvary Methodist Church team was the high single string man with 113. The matches resulted as follows:—Heights Methodist Church and Team A of Calvary Methodist Church split even; A. F. G. Brotherhood of the Heights Baptist Church won three from the Heights Congregational; Davis Team of the Heights Baptist Church won four from the Heights Baptist regulars and Calvary Methodist won four points from Team B of the Church of Our Saviour.

The bowling team of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association sprang a surprise in the Amateur Boston Pin League series Monday evening, when the team jumped into a tie with the Medford club for first place. The latter club was looked on as the possible winner for on Monday it was rolling the tail-end team in the league. However, the tail-enders beat the top place men, while M. S. A. won all four of its matches, so the tie resulted. The games throughout the season have been close with the M. S. A. team around top place. The league closed on Monday evening. To roll off the tie, there will be a special match this (Friday) evening between Medford and M. S. A. at the Cottage Park Yacht Club Alleys. This will be a battle royal for both teams are evenly matched and keyed for the contest.

SPORTS COMMENT

The school vacation period of last week made athletics a little shy but with the reopening of the schools this week the activities will get under way again.

A large number from this town attended the triangular meet in Mechanics Hall Saturday evening. Charles Collins of this town, newly elected captain of the Dartmouth Track team, ran in the mile and finished third. Collins held the lead in this grind for seven laps, when Cornell took the lead and Harvard took second position, the runners finishing in that rotation. Collins ran a fine race. The battle for supremacy was a bitter one.

Jack Foster of this town has had another honor conferred on him at Exeter. Jack, who is a product of Arlington High, is not only captain of the football team and the ice hockey teams, but now has been made president of his class.

The High school ice hockey team is through for the season and Coach William Barry has disbanded his team. All but one of the team of this season will be available next season so that the prospects are rather bright for another year. Arlington was nosed out in a red hot game for a place in the Interscholastic League.

Ralph C. Henricus, director of athletics in the schools of the town, is trying to arrange some fact games for the remainder of the season of the basketball players. In all probability, the Boston College High school team will be the opponent this (Friday) evening in High school gymnasium.

The return of the cold weather the first of the week put a stop to the outdoor practice of the baseball candidates.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

"Pollyanna," the "glad play," dramatized by Catherine Chisholm Cushing from the popular novel by the late Eleanor H. Porter, will be presented next week by the Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theatre. The story is a familiar one, telling how Pollyanna, a little orphan comes to live with her stern and aristocratic aunt in a New England village and through her "glad philosophy" of life succeeds in changing the lives of all with whom she comes in contact. Elsie Hitz, talented leading lady of the company will play "Pollyanna," the role originally essayed by Patricia Collinge; Anna Layng and Louis Leon Hall will be seen as "Polly Harrington" (Pollyanna's aunt) and Doctor Chilton, roles first played by Effie Shannon and the late Herbert Kelcey. Bernard Nedell is cast as "John Pendleton;" and Houston Richards as "Jimmie Bean," (Glenn Hunter originally had this role). Director Godfrey has cast the remainder of the company exceptionally well.

MRS. BARKER OPENS HER HOME FOR A BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Elliott R. Barker opened her home at 26 Lombard road on Friday of last week, for a bridge for the benefit of the Arlington District Nursing Association. There were twelve tables sold and eleven were used in play. At the close of the game the highest scorer at each table was given a most attractive hand embroidered bridge luncheon set that was the handwork of the ladies who make up the small club and who gave the party at this time. Delicious ices, fancy cakes and coffee were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. L. D. Cotton, Mrs. R. J. Hunt, Mrs. L. B. Pool, Mrs. R. W. Blake, Mrs. W. A. Currier with Mrs. Barker. Fifty dollars will be added to the District Nursing Ass'n treasury through the generosity of these ladies and their friends.

BOW LEGS CAN BE PREVENTED

Bow legs are almost always an indication of rickets. They can be prevented by proper food, rest, fresh air, and direct sunlight. The baby's bones are built and made strong by the mineral matter and vitamins in the food which he eats. Milk is the food richest in these substances. Breast-fed babies are not as apt to develop rickets as bottle babies, as mother's milk contains the necessary substances in a natural form.

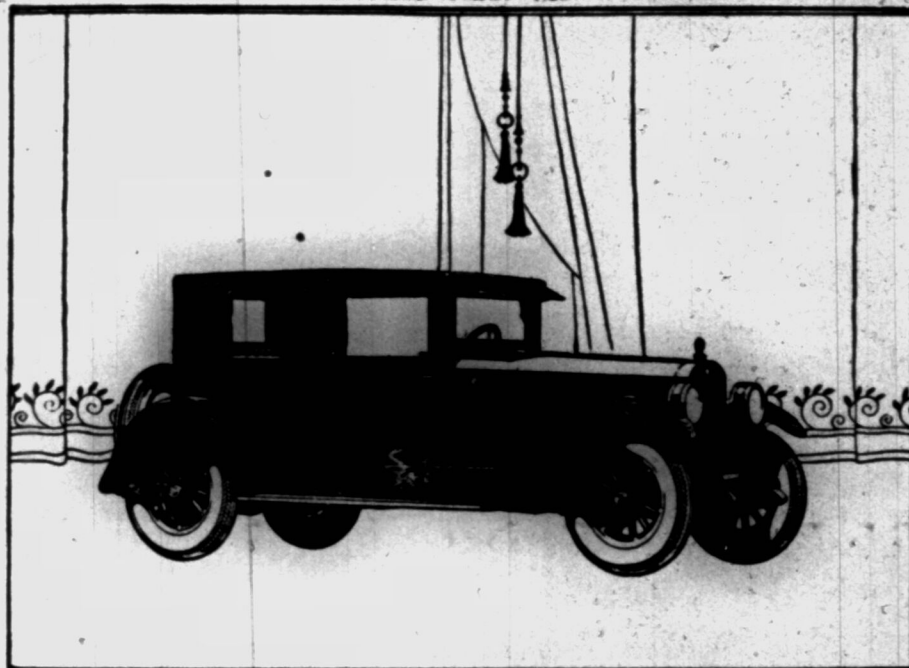

Every baby needs orange juice and direct sunlight. Every bottle baby needs, in addition, cod liver oil.

To Our Customers

THE cost of heating water is frequently discussed by our customers. There are many different methods of heating water for domestic purposes and we want our customers to have the best information on their water heating problem so they can have a satisfactory method in use. We want you to know that we maintain a Water Heating Department with Mr. Elmer S. Stack in charge, to give our customers information and advice on heating water, whether the fuel used is gas or not.

We make a rather broad statement when we say there is no one in New England who knows more about heating water than Mr. Stack, but we believe it is true. May we not assist you with information and advice without any obligation on your part? We want to be of service to you.

WEEK-DAY PULPIT

1st Congregational Parish

("The Unitarian Church")

Minister, REV. FREDERICK GILL, D.D.,
13 Doreaux Street

The hope of advance and improvement in humanity, the conviction that something may be done to diminish ignorance, hatred, and misery in the world, and to increase knowledge, good-will, and happiness among men, is a divine endowment of our nature. For a man to do this in his own heart and conduct, is the most important practical application of religion, and makes him an active partner with God.

=We have been asked the question since the last earthquake, whether the world was coming to an end. Well, we can't answer the question, but as earthquakes have been occurring for centuries, one guess is as good as another. Those who were seated quietly at home pursuing the even tenure of their way did have a bit of a shock when they found the chair in which they were seated, beginning to rock and the pictures on the wall moved perceptibly. Dishes on the shelves rattle and in some cases crashed to the floor. There came a report of a lady of this town who had been seriously ill for some weeks, and was still confined to her bed. When it began to rock and sway, she called to those in the house to come to her aid. Fearing that she had had a return of the delirium, which had accompanied her illness, the doctor was called. In reply, the doctor assured the patient that it was not a delusion, that he had felt the shock and had, with his wife and children, hastened from the house. It was a strange experience for Arlington.
